

LANIEL IS DEFEATED IN CONFIDENCE VOTE

About Town

And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

FINANCIAL DEPT. Money money money. What a delightful sound. I saw all kinds of money up here at The Daily Register of fine Thursday and it all belonged to James Tanner, who works here. Tanner, a young fellow, is collecting coins and he showed me a part of his collection. He produced his Liberty Head nickel collection, his Indian Head penny collection up through 1909, and his Mercury Head dimes from 1916 to 1945.

Only rub is—James doesn't have 'em all and he'd like to get those he needs to fill the gaps. For instance, in his Liberty Head nickel collection, which runs from 1883 through 1913, he has them all except for 1886, 1888, 1889, 1892, 1895 and 1913, and he doesn't expect to get the 1913 five-cent piece because it is very very rare.

He's bought and traded for these pieces and some time back he bought 800 Liberty Head nickels from a fellow workman here at the office at face value, and got three of the missing Liberty Heads from this group.

James, who has been collecting for 10 years, has two Flying Eagle pennies of 1858, made just before the Indian Head pennies were put into the molds in 1859. In his 1859-1909 collection of Indian Heads he has the 1864, 1865, 1866, 1873, 1874, from 1880 to 1889 inclusive and from 1901-1908 inclusive.

The 1916-45 Mercury Head dimes collection looked most fascinating to Timmo because they're worth ten times as much as an Indian Head penny when you go in to buy an ice cream cone. James has most of this collection. I believe he still lacks nine.

Besides the three collections he showed me, he has eight other collections, all of American coins. They include Buffalo nickels, Jefferson nickels and Lincoln Head pennies 1909-40, which are nearly complete and the Lincoln Head collection 1941-53, which is complete.

Nothing like having a little change in reserve.

Drunk Driver Crashes Into Nixon's Auto

LOS ANGELES (U.P.)—Vice President Richard Nixon escaped unharmed today when a drunk driver crashed into the car in which he was riding shortly after he arrived at Los Angeles International Airport.

The vice president arrived at 2:10 a. m. EDT today and was driving in a convoy not far from the airport when the accident occurred.

Police said the driver of the other vehicle crashed into Nixon's car, damaging the rear fender, and smashed broadside into one of two Secret Service cars accompanying the vice president.

No one was hurt, police said. The driver, who was not immediately identified, was taken into custody.

Nixon was scheduled to address commencement exercises at Whittier College today.

In the car with the vice president were Dr. Charles Cooper and Leonard Crowfoot, both professors at Whittier, which is Nixon's alma mater. The driver was Clinton Harris, who owns an automobile agency in Whittier.

Nixon, a graduate of the class of 1934, has said the scheduled commencement address will be of "national significance."

He is scheduled to leave Sunday evening and return to Washington.

Will Scarlet, Nearing First Birthday, Is Producer of 'Famous Stonefort' Coal

HERE IS A GENERAL VIEW OF THE STONEFORT CORPORATION'S Will Scarlet Mine, which lies just over the Saline county line in Williamson, about three miles from Stonefort, 15 from Harrisburg and 17 from Marion. At the right is the preparation plant, at the left the huge pile of coal called the surge pile. Trucks coming in from the pit dump the coal into hopper at rear of pile and coal is carried by belt to surge pile. There it is picked up and taken by conveyor shown running from ground to top of building and into preparation plant. Production has reached 3,000 tons a day.

COAL PRODUCTION BEGAN at Will Scarlet June 16, 1953, and the mine has been producing prepared coal since April 1 of this year. The preparation plant is complete except for a drier building now being constructed at rear of the building shown above. The coal moved from the surge pile goes into its entry into coal cars, shown at right center on three tracks. There are three loading shoots, also shown, two with belts and one with a scraper. The coal then moves out on a two and a half mile spur to the New York Central lines, for removal to all parts of the country. "Famous Stonefort" is the name the company has given to its coal.

THIS HUGE BUCYRUS SHOVEL has a bucket of 26 yard capacity and an extra long boom made especially for two-seam operation. Will Scarlet is mining both No. 2 and No. 3 vein coal and the above photo shows the shovel removing overburden from the coal seams. The overburden ranges from 20 to 60 feet with 13 and one half feet between the two coal veins. There are 100 men working at the mine, all on the day shift except the shovel operators and repair crews.

FROM THE PARKING LOT are shown three of the buildings on the premises. From left to right are the shop, the warehouse and the garage. Back of the warehouse are the offices. To the left of the shop is the lab building. General superintendent of the mine is Ray G. Baughman of Linton, Ind. W. W. Dukes is mine superintendent, Harold Berns is field engineer, Wayne Edwards is mine manager, A. W. Blass is plant engineer, Jack Moore is chief clerk, Thomas Elmer Davis is chief electrician, C. H. McMillen is construction foreman, Clyde Rodocker is tippie foreman, Guy McDonald is billing clerk, Glen Abrams, cost and time clerk, Harry Crowder, wareroom clerk, Max Rodocker foreman, Gordon Cain and Philip Wilson, laboratory technicians and Tom Gilchrist, rodman. Most workers live in the Carrier Mills and Harrisburg area. (Daily Register Staff Photos)

Meek Attacks Demos to Open GOP Convention

Republicans Meet To Adopt Platform, Name U. I. Candidates

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.)—Joseph T. Meek, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate, said today Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas is "Mr. Capital 'S' of Socialism."

Meek also called his opponent "the friend of the tax collector... the spawn of the wastrel, the compounder of the five per center, the corrupter of the administrator, the acceptor of a foreign way of life which can only end in the loss of man's heart, mind and soul."

Attacking the "tragic 20 years" of Democratic national administration, Meek said his defeat by Douglas in November would mean "to America, a disbeliever" in the 1952 Republican "crusade" and the return to office "of one dedicated to the collectivist plan."

"We are here, in 1954, to choose," Meek said in his prepared speech to the GOP state convention. "If we lose, there will be very little to choose in 1956."

Speechmaking, adoption of the party's 1954 state platform, and nomination of three candidates for University of Illinois trustees were the main business of the afternoon meeting at the State Armory.

Others on the speakers' platform with Meek included U. S. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Pekin), Congressman Leslie C. Arends (R-Melvin), and Gov. William G. Stratton.

Meek, former president of the Illinois Federation of Retail Associations, said the GOP is "the last barrier to creeping socialism" which he termed "the porch door to communism."

The senatorial candidate listed these Republican "goals"—"the continuation of peace, bloodless prosperity, honest performance, and the smashing defeat" of Douglas.

In an apparent reference to the Army-McCarthy hearings, he said the GOP is fighting communism and "perhaps our greatest lack has been not to use the current argument to dramatize a further indictment of these tragic 20 years" of Democratic administration.

He called for a halt to "foreign hand-outs," further cuts in federal taxes, continued efforts to "put integrity and performance" into government, an "American made foreign policy" and a resolve not to send American troops to war.

Arends, charging the Democrats seek by "every possible political device and strategy, short of direct attacks, to sabotage" the "dynamic" program of President Eisenhower, called for election of a Republican Congress in November.

Stratton said his administration has "made Illinois a better place in which to live and work" and will "continue" to work for "better government and better conditions for the people of Illinois."

Dulles Warns U. S. Will Fight Alone if Needed

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (U.P.)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles warned Friday night that the United States would fight alone if necessary, in case an open Communist attack threatened U. S. security.

Dulles said the United States would "meet the issue squarely," in case of further Red Chinese aggression in Southeast Asia.

He said that although military moves by the Chinese Communists would be a "deliberate threat to the United States itself," this country would, as a matter of course, invoke United Nations procedures and consult its Allies before taking any action.

"But we could not escape ultimate responsibility for decision closely touching our own security and self-defense," he declared.

"This government wants peace and the American people want peace," Dulles said.

"But should there be openly launched an attack that the American people would clearly recognize as a threat to our security, then the right of self-preservation would demand that we—regardless of any other country—meet the issue squarely."

Dulles also said that France must promise not to pull out of the fight, and certain other conditions must be met.

Robert R. Young Wins Control of $2,600,000,000 New York Central

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Robert R. Young, a one-time 28-cent-an-hour powder monkey, apparently has won control of the $2,600,000,000 New York Central Railroad.

Young, now a millionaire socialite, decisively defeated the railroad's management under the leadership of President William White in the biggest proxy battle in corporate history, according to authoritative sources.

Young, sure of victory, has called a meeting of his new board of directors in New York City on Monday after the formal vote announcement is made at the reconvened stockholders' meeting in Albany, N. Y., at 10 a. m. EDT.

The financier also has selected his candidate to succeed White in the presidency. He is Alfred E. Perlman, executive vice president of the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad. Perlman is en route to New York.

White will call the postponed stockholders meeting to order in Albany on Monday. It has been postponed three times since stockholders cast their ballots on May 26.

Up to now deep secrecy has been maintained on the count of proxy votes being made by 40 clerks under the supervision of three law professors.

Information began to leak out Friday. Piecing together the vote picture as various sources revealed it, Young received a total of 3,436,795 votes and White 2,366,795 votes.

If these figures are correct, Young received 59 percent of the stock voted and his total amounted to 53 percent of all the votes available—one for each of the 6,447,410 shares of stock outstanding.

Elks Campaign For Display of Flags June 14

Using the slogan "Show Your Colors," Harrisburg Elks Lodge will conduct a campaign for the community-wide display of Old Glory in observance of Flag Day, June 14.

H. E. Mitchell, Jr., exalted ruler of the lodge, said the Elks hope that the flag will be displayed publicly before every home, office and business establishment in the community in honor of the 177th anniversary of the adoption of the Stars and Stripes by the Continental Congress on June 14, 1777.

Appealing to all civic, fraternal, and patriotic groups in the city to cooperate in the campaign by flying the flag on its birthday, Mitchell declared that this is an effective way for every loyal American to reaffirm his belief in the principles of freedom and self-government.

The "Show Your Colors" campaign is being conducted throughout the nation by 1,675 lodges of the Order of Elks, which has been observing Flag Day since 1907.

"We think that these times call for some good old-fashioned flag waving," Exalted Ruler Mitchell declared. "Every patriotic American will want to fly the flag and be counted among those who love freedom and intend to fight to keep it."

Premier Offers Resignation Of His Gov't

President Asks 48-Hour Delay To Find New Leader

PARIS (U.P.)—The French National Assembly voted "no confidence" in the crisis-ridden government of Premier Joseph Laniel today, and Laniel immediately offered his government's resignation to the president.

Reliable sources said President Rene Coty probably would accept it. However, an official announcement said Coty had asked for a 48-hour delay, during which he presumably will try to find a new premier to seek a solution to the mounting problem of Indochina.

Official announcement of Laniel's election was made by Pierre July, secretary of state to the premier.

It came shortly before the assembly was to reconvene to hear Laniel's decision after his meeting with Coty and the cabinet.

Laniel's own supporters were urging him to stay in office but at the cabinet meeting the powerful Radical Socialist Party demanded he quit. The eight cabinet ministers and secretaries of state threatened to resign and cripple the government if he refused.

Because the opposition vote was short of the absolute majority of 314 votes necessary to topple the 11 and one-half-month old government automatically, Laniel had a choice of resigning or staying in office.

Urged to Stay in Office
It was almost unprecedented for a premier to refuse to resign after a defeat in a vote of confidence. But Laniel's supporters had urged him to stay in office rather than leave France without a government during the negotiations at Geneva seeking to end the eight-year Indochina war.

The hostile deputies ignored Laniel's last-minute appeal to vote confidence in his government and prevent an "Asiatik Munich."

They voted down a mild government motion rejecting three opposition resolutions criticizing the government's Indochina policy, including one sponsored by the Communists.

Laniel pinned the fate of Indochina and the Geneva conference on the vote in making it an issue of confidence in the government.

Even if he remained in office under the constitutional technicality he would lack the majority to back up strategy decisions on Indochina. Laniel would not be assured of the vote needed to bind the assembly to any peace terms worked out at Geneva.

Fifth Test for Laniel
The vote was the fifth confidence test in Laniel's 351 days in office—the second longest regime since the war.

There were 18 previous cabinet crises in that time. "To provoke a crisis is to sacrifice the most serious chances for peace in Indochina," he warned. "You must measure the consequences of an absence of power."

But the 64-year-old millionaire manufacturer refused to appease opponents of the European Army in order to help his government weather its fifth confidence test in nearly a year in office.

"I will make no deals," he said. "I will not barter Indochina against European security."

"Is there in this house a majority for an Asiatik Munich and opposed to our Atlantic alliance," Laniel demanded.

The deputies stirred restlessly but there was little enthusiasm for the independent politician whose popularity started sharply downward with the fall of Dien Bien Phu May 7.

Laniel was the first to speak after the assembly convened for the confidence vote.

President Coty, facing his first cabinet crisis and the 19th since World War II ended, tried Friday to stave off the gathering political storm.

SIU Report Describes Methods Of Seeding Pines, Results Obtained

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Direct seeding of pines as a method of reforestation in the central hardwood region is recommended only under special conditions, according to a report on experimental work in southern Illinois and southern Ohio. This type of planting refers to sowing seed directly on areas intended for the forest stand as contrasted to transplanting seedlings, according to a report released today at Southern Illinois university.

Co-authors of the report, "Direct Seeding of Pines in the Central Hardwoods Region," are Dr. Leon S. Minckler, silviculturist at

Seed Areas Around Farm Ponds

URBANA — Bare soil around your farm pond should be seeded with grass to protect the slopes from erosion and to keep the pond from filling with silt.

B. A. Jones, University of Illinois agricultural engineer, points out that dry weather last fall caused seeding failures at many newly constructed farm ponds. And in some cases farmers felt that it was too dry to even seed. Jones offers these suggestions for getting a good stand of grass on the earth dam and on the area around your farm pond:

Prepare a good seedbed. Apply 8-8-8 or 10-10-10 fertilizer at a rate of 400-800 pounds per acre. A 50-50 mixture of timothy and red-top at 24-30 pounds per acre is recommended for the most of Illinois. But brome grass, tall fescue or perennial rye grass also may be used.

If cattle are in the same field, fence the area around the pond to establish and maintain a good sod.

If the first seeding doesn't catch, Sudan grass will make a good temporary sod. Seed Sudan at the rate of 25-30 pounds per acre.

Tipping Tractors Are Killers

A search for a lost shovel ended in death recently for a northern Illinois farmer whose tractor tipped into a drainage ditch and crushed him.

This is only the beginning of a long procession of such accidents, judging from 1953 figures, says Wendell Bowers, University of Illinois agricultural engineer. Thirteen Illinois farmers died last year when their tractors tipped over, and another 72 were injured. That's an average of nearly one tractor-tipping accident per county.

Keeping away from ditches, cutting your speed before making a turn and keeping brake pedals locked together when in road gear will help to keep you from becoming a "statistic." And keep the rear wheel spacing as wide as possible, especially when working on steep slopes.

Balanced Meals Must Include Dairy Products

When a person's regular diet doesn't include plenty of milk or cheese, that person is almost sure not to have enough of the calcium he needs for good health. The amount of calcium supplied by all other foods in a good, average dairy meal is less than one-third of the amount needed by all adults.

It is not easy for ordinary foods to replace milk products, because milk is the only food that contains calcium in any great amount. In addition, it is an outstanding source of riboflavin and protein, and whole milk supplies a considerable amount of vitamin A and phosphorus. Some of all the vitamins that are known to be required by man are found in milk.

The average healthy man or woman should have 3 gram of calcium in his diet per day. This will be no problem if his regular diet includes three cups of whole or skim milk a day.

Milk is milk, whether you drink it or eat it. It is included in a surprising number of cooked dishes, such as soups, casseroles, puddings, scalloped vegetables and puddings. Cookbooks suggest a great variety of ways to get more milk into meals.

On the basis of calcium content the following amounts of dairy products are approximately equal to one cup of milk: 1 ounce of Cheddar-type cheese; 1 1/3 cups of cottage cheese or 2 average servings of ice cream.

COW PANTRY

A sliding panel opens into a bin within the feed room on a Wisconsin dairy farm. The feed room is adjacent to the milking parlor, reports Capper's Farmer, and the panel opening is only a few feet from the cows. It's a timesaver in this particular single-story parlor and is less expensive than overhead storage.

NEW HIGH-OIL BEAN

By 1955 seed of a new soybean, Renville, developed in Minnesota, should be available for general farm planting. The variety grows from 26 to 31 inches tall, is highly resistant to lodging and has the highest oil content of any variety tested by the University of Minnesota, reports Capper's Farmer. It is a week earlier than Blackhawk.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer

June is the time to transplant perennial bulbs of spring blossoming flowers. These include tulip, crocus, iris, daffodil, narcissus, and similar plants. New locations and arrangements may be desirable to add beauty to the home grounds.

Proper home ground arrangement not only is one that presents an attractive appearance, but is one that provides efficiency in construction, upkeep, use, and resources.

Summer is a good time to review shade needs around the house. Of course, the time to plant the trees will be next fall, winter or spring, but now is the time to decide whether or not your house is getting too much sun for comfort.

An announcement says the Southern Illinois University Extension Division will open a two-weeks class in landscape gardening at Benton June 14, covering many phases of home arrangement and planting for beauty, convenience, and utility. Information about the course, which incidentally will allow three quarter hours of college credit, may be obtained from the Franklin County superintendent of schools. Interested persons will attend class during mornings five days each week.

A few hints to the tractor owner and operator:

To get the longest life out of tires, keep them inflated to the recommended pressure. If the pressure is too low there will be excessive bending of the tire sidewalls; if too high, the cords will be put under extra strain.

The best investment for long tire service is a good gauge for testing tire pressure.

The battery will need checking once weekly in hot weather. Always make certain the plates are covered with water. The generator should be charging but not too much. To prevent battery damage from jarring, make sure it is fastened firmly.

Then, too, give the air cleaner regular care. Always use the best grade of oil. This is the best insurance for long, trouble-free engine life.

There is this parting note from the poultry department: The hen that goes broody three times during one season should make a good Sunday dinner of chicken and dumplings.

FOOD DEMAND CLIMBS

The long-run farm outlook continues bright. Studies point to a substantial boost in the demand for food by 1960. Two forces, says Capper's Farmer, will bring the boost: an expected increase of 9 to 19 per cent in population, and a continued climb in food consumption per capita. The combined effect should add up to a net hike of 10 to 20 per cent in 1960 over 1950.

Increase Size of Farm Business by Good Management

Farmers may increase the size of their business by good management practices and without buying more land, says Harvey Woods, Southern Illinois university experimental farm manager.

The size of the farm operation depends not just on the number of acres used, but on a combination of land, labor, and capital. A farmer usually wants to buy more land so he may make more money. However, some cannot purchase more acres because none are available in the neighborhood, or they do not want to move to areas where land is available.

Livestock, poultry, and other enterprises which use more labor and capital and less acres are suggested as possibilities.

Through improved farming practices and managed feed purchases beef and hog enterprises may be profitable on a farm of even as small as 100 acres because the labor and capital requirements are relatively high. Dairy cattle use and pay for a large amount of labor. Thousands of broilers may be produced on less than an acre of land and laying flocks will provide an adequate farming business on 10 acres. Fruits and vegetables offer other opportunities for the farmer with limited acres.

SAFER BUNTING POLE

Capper's Farmer reminds us that front bunting a heavily loaded wagon can result in a serious accident. Tractors have a nasty habit of jackknifing when bunting from the front. It's safer to work from the back with a welded pole coupling that hitches to the tractor drawbar and wagon.

Clean and Spray Wheat Storage Space

A thorough clean-up campaign before harvest time is the first step in controlling insect damage in stored wheat.

Clean all grain bins and machinery thoroughly, suggests Stevenson Moore, extension entomologist of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture and the State Natural History Survey.

Sweep out all old grain, chaff, and dust accumulated in cracks and corners of every bin. Destroy trash and other debris from the bin area, and clean up all equipment where insects may have lodged or laid eggs. It is usually a good idea to feed the first few bushels through the combine to livestock, says Moore.

Then follow the clean-up by spraying the bins. Moore advises spraying floors and inside and outside walls with a DDT or methoxychlor spray. Mix 2 quarts of McKinley Baptist W. M. S.

Has Missionary Meeting

The Women's Missionary society of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church met Wednesday afternoon, June 9, after church for the regular business and missionary meeting.

The president, Mrs. Nettie Yarbrough, presided over the business session, and each member was asked to help or contribute as she could to Bible school. Several of the W. M. S. members who attended the Southern Baptist convention in St. Louis, were asked to give a report on the highlights.

Circle B, under the direction of Mrs. Henry Hendren, presented the program, the theme being "A Sinful World, a Sufficient Savior." It was brought to the attention of the group that the program material was gathered by Miss Juliet Mather, Southern Baptist W. M. S. secretary, while visiting in the Formosa mission fields last fall.

Mrs. Ralph Burroughs gave the devotion from Isaiah 44 where the children of Israel were warned about worshipping idols and Romans 10 where Paul tells the need for people to know the true and only God and his son Jesus.

The following members gave topics on descriptions, needs, and opportunities of Formosa: Mrs. Elmer Gibbons, Mrs. Jim Ford, Mrs. Ed Hutchinson, Mrs. Levi Chitty and Mrs. George Rumsey. Mrs. Hendren closed the lesson by using this scripture: "Today if you will hear his voice, harden not your heart." "Today is the day and now is the time in which Formosa may receive the gospel at the hands of Southern Baptist," she concluded.

The closing prayer was by Mrs. Otis Reynolds.

Complain of Noisy
Party by Ellen
Borden Stevenson

CHICAGO—(AP)—Police went to the family home of Mrs. Ellen Borden Stevenson on fashionable Lake Shore Drive early today to investigate complaints there was a noisy garden party underway there.

Policemen made two visits to the home but took no action. They said they found 100 persons dancing to the music of a small band which "didn't sound loud."

Mrs. Stevenson is the former wife of Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for the presidency in 1952.

The home, the old residence of the Borden family, is the site of the 1020 Arts Club, an art center she helped organize recently.

Mrs. Stevenson has been involved in a dispute with neighbors who opposed her plans to obtain a permit to sell food and liquor at the club.

The party Friday night was announced as a masquerade ball with a theme of "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Rhine — Not Ryan
Family Discussed at Historical Meeting

On the occasion of a recent visit by the Saline County Historical society at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Durham in Galatia, Mr. Durham discussed the background of the Webber and Rhine families in the area, but the report of the meeting in The Daily Register June 3 stated he discussed the "Ryan" family. There is a prominent Ryan family in Saline county, but Mr. Durham's discussion was concerning the Rhines, of which he is a descendant.

Attention to the error has been called by several persons, including Mrs. Pearl W. Norman of Washington, D. C., formerly of Galatia.

Mrs. Norman wrote at length concerning the families, her letter including the following information: "My grandmother, Mahala Rhine Webber and Ray Durham's grandmother, Minerva Rhine Anderson, were twins. Their father, John Rhine was born in Germany on the river Rhine June 11, 1800 and died September 7, 1873.

He married Hanna Barger, who was born in Wilson county, Tenn., July 26, 1800, and who died December 18, 1872. They are both buried in Rhine cemetery, Raleigh.

"They had 15 children — seven boys and eight girls. Three of the girls, Elizabeth, Jane and my grandmother Mahala, married three of Daddy Webber's boys: Nelson, Dick and Archibald (my grandfather).

"Daddy Webber came to this country from Germany with his brother William. The family was very well to do, and gave them quite a sum of money and sent them to America to keep them from serving in the Prussian army. William stopped in Pennsylvania, but Daddy Webber settled in Illinois, and the Webber Camp Ground is part of his farm which he gave gratis for the burial ground."

Mrs. Norman gave other information along the line discussed by Mr. Durham at the historical society meeting.

Navy Commissions Three Graduates After Security Checks

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UP)—The three naval academy graduates whose commissions had been held up pending security checks received their officers bars at an unprecedented special ceremony here Friday night.

The Navy said it was sorry there had been any delay in commissioning the midshipmen, Harold Pollock of Hartford, Conn., Paul Shimek of Hazen, Ark., and Peter Yablowsky of Jersey City, N. J., who graduated with 851 classmates last Friday.

Their commissions were held up for security clearances, which finally came through Friday. The Navy, which had been hotly criticized in Congress for the delay, then moved swiftly to swear them in as officers.

Douglas Move to Curtail Diplomatic Spending Defeated

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Friday defeated a move by Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) to cut diplomatic spending abroad despite Douglas' protests that U. S. policies should not be floated "on a sea of champagne."

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) said Douglas was arguing "for the sake of a headline" and that his contentions were "a general smear of guilt by association."

The Senate, debating a $1,140,821,230 appropriation for the State, Justice and Commerce Departments for the fiscal year starting July 1, took these actions:

Defeated by voice vote a Douglas proposal to trim $200,000 from "representation" funds for the State Department. These finance official entertainment and expenses.

Douglas said the so-called representation funds finance "inebriating" beverages and that he sees no need for a "mutual inebriation" program among diplomats.

Jobless Welder Identified As Kidnaper

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP)—A discouraged unemployed welder who posed as a prospector was identified by a well-to-do Phoenix woman as her kidnaper, and Phoenix Police Chief Charles Thomas said today "there's no doubt" that he was the person who abducted her for $75,000 ransom.

Maricopa County Attorney William P. Mahoney Jr., after several hours of questioning suspect Daniel Joseph Marsin, said that Marsin "would neither admit it nor deny it." But Thomas and Mahoney indicated they thought "that's our boy."

There also were indications police sought to learn if the suspect had an accomplice.

Police and sheriff's officers immediately began a search to find the missing ransom money, paid off by the husband of Mrs. Evelyn Ann Smith in a contact at sundown Thursday with the masked kidnaper in the foothills of the rugged Superstition Mountains.

Arrested by Deputies

The 5-foot, 5-inch Marsin was returned to the city jail and indications were he would not be questioned further until later today.

A bedraggled, "very thirsty" Marsin was arrested by deputies early Friday morning at the Quarter Circle Ranch, only 2 1/2 miles from the payoff scene. He claimed he had been searching for the legendary Lost Dutchman Mine in the Superstition Mountains. It was in these mountains that one of the most intense manhunts in Arizona history was concentrated Friday.

Mrs. Smith, wife of Herbert Smith, an owner of Smith Pipe and Steel Co. here, identified Marsin.

Robert Puleinski, a worker at the service station where the ransom note was dropped off in a bag of golf clubs on Wednesday, also identified Marsin as the man who left the clubs with him, saying a "Mr. Smith" would call for them.

Miss Dorothy Durham, who has been engaged in psychiatric work in Honolulu, Hawaii, for the past thirty months, arrived at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Durham of Galatia, Thursday for an extended visit.

Miss Durham, who has her Masters degree in psychiatric social work from the University of Denver, was connected with Queens hospital, Honolulu.

In addition to carrying out her work as psychiatric social worker in the hospital, Miss Durham assisted in establishing an out patient psychiatric clinic, trained and supervised social workers at the hospital and the University of Hawaii, assisted in training psychiatric interns at the hospital and also lectured before civic organizations and student nurse groups.

Miss Durham made the trip to San Francisco from Honolulu by ship and travelled by airplane from the coast to St. Louis.

She plans to return to her work as a psychiatric social worker after a month or so, but at present is enjoying her first visit at home in two and a half years.

Boy Says Two Men Started Fire Fatal to Seven

CHICAGO (UP)—An 11-year-old boy said today he saw two men start a fire that killed seven persons and injured eight others when it roared through a four-story apartment house Friday night.

Fire Department Attorney Earle Downs said he believed the story of Marion Gregory.

Officials said the blaze started with an explosion on the third floor and turned the eight-flat building into a blazing inferno within minutes.

The fire spread up a stairwell to the roof, trapping many of the 50 tenants in the building.

Tenants handed children through windows and one woman leaped from the third floor in an effort to escape.

Firemen removed the bodies of two men, two women and two children from the charred building. Another child died later in a hospital.

The dead were identified as Leo Weeks, 25, his son Leo Jr., 2, and a daughter Linda, 2; Willie Martin, 25 and his wife Elsie, 38; Mrs. Ellender Borden, 23 and her daughter June, 3.

LASTING PROBLEM

Charles Has Disappointed So Often, It is Impossible to Pick Him

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Ezzard Charles was literally picked out of the ashen as a challenger of Rocky Marciano.

The scheduled 15-round fight at Yankee Stadium, June 17, is another striking example of the poverty of pugilism.

Charles has had more chances than a wayward son of the rich. This is his fourth crack at the heavyweight crown.

Ezzard the Gizzard has disappointed so often that it is impossible to pick him to beat the dead game Marciano, an awkward but powerful and durable fellow with a bomb in each hand.

Retired Charles, 33, best illustrates how easy it is to rebuild a prize fighter these days.

He qualified for the match by knocking out Coley Wallace, who acts better than he fights, and Bob Satterfield, who has been flattened by practically everybody but Chuck Davey.

Since old Jersey Joe Walcott left Charles shell shy and for seriously dead in Pittsburgh three years ago, the erstwhile Panther proved too timid in a rematch.

He also dropped a decision to Rex Layne, although the latter had definitely established as the greatest horizontal heavyweight since Joe Beckett. As recently as last August, Nino Valdez, a mediocre mauler, won from him in 10, and a month later he was trimmed by Harold Johnson, a light-heavyweight.

Joe Louis had his Bum-of-the-Month. Off his more recent record, Charles is Marciano's Bum-of-the-Year.

Yet and paradoxically, Charles could be the most formidable scout Marciano has tackled. You have to go back to earlier races, as they say at the track. Before Walcott tagged him, Charles took the old pappy guy in stride, for example, and in their last outing failed to become the first heavyweight ruler to come back only because he neglected to wade in and make it crystal clear.

Charles has all the equipment. All he requires against the average bloke is the urge.

The question is in what state of mind he will be in when he climbs into the ring.

If he doesn't choke, as he did in the Philadelphia engagement with Old Man Walcott, the first eight or nine rounds may be something to get excited about.

After 24 minutes or so of combat, however, the rust should be pretty well cleaned off Marciano, who has had only 11 rounds of actual fighting in a prize ring in 21 months. The Brockton Block Buster should then go to work cleaning up Charles.

Many seasoned observers have yet to be convinced that the clumsy Marciano is a top notch heavyweight, but he can take it till the gentle bovines wend their way home and the roof may cave in at any second. Blocking the Rock's deadening punches hurt Charley Goldman taught him the damage that can be done with swings to the other guy's muscles. That and body belts in the clinches leave the other fellow with leaden arms.

Ezzard Charles has had too many opportunities. It's about time he ran out of them.

Merchants Play Mayfield Black Hawks Here Sunday

The Harrisburg Merchants will try to hit the win column again Sunday afternoon when the Mayfield, Ky., Black Hawks come to the town park diamond.

The Merchants hope to snap out of a two-game hitting slump and notch another win over the strong semi-pro club. The locals hammered Mickey Stubblefield from the box earlier in the season and took a 9-3 decision. Stubblefield, a curveball artist, was the first Negro player to enter the Kitty league and can be a very good pitcher in any semi-pro circle.

The Mayfield catcher is the biggest attraction on the club. Many local fans have stated they remember him when Harrisburg supported the Big Four baseball club. Despite his acrobatic antics of catching from prone to various positions, the ageless athlete is one of the better catchers outside the professional clubs. The Mayfield team also displays a running attack that can win a close game unless the opposition is alert.

Gene Trammel will draw the starting assignment for the Merchants. Trammel, who started late in the season, has a 1-1 record with the win coming over "Big Jim"

Wirths Have Field Day in 35-4 Win In Kiwanis Tilt

Harry Wirth's team had a field day in a 35-4 victory over James Bros. in a Kitty league contest Friday, while the Athletic House nine defeated the Jaycees team, 12-6. Pickford Flowers and Shell Service teams won forfeits from Mitchells and Aces to round out the first week of play in the Kiwanis league.

Wirths 35, James Bros. 4
The winners got 35 runs on 30 hits with hitting honors going to Frantz, Wirth, Banks and Wilson, who collected 18 between them. Hitting honors for the losers went to the James brothers, Stev and Greg, who had four of the eight hits. Batteries for the winners were Wilson and Wirth; for the losers Goins, Roberson and James.

In a National league game the Athletic House downed the Jaycees, 12-6, with a big seven-run second inning. The winners got 12 runs on 13 hits and the losers got six runs on six hits. Batteries for the winners were Fritts, Molinaro and Hassett; for the losers, Mitchell, Edwards and Hughes.

Most Dangerous
Some persons regard the king cobra as the most dangerous of all wild creatures now inhabiting the earth. It lives in the Indo-Malayan area and its main food is other snakes.

Louisville, Ky., manufactures more baseball bats than any other city in the world.

Bumpus of Uniontown and the loss to the Nash Ramblers in an abbreviated contest last Sunday. Dick Romonosky, who was a big gun in the locals' first victory over Mayfield, will do the catching and a shake-up of the remainder of the lineup is expected due to the poor hitting attack of late.

Merchant players are asked to be present Sunday at 12:15 sharp. Game time is 2:30 p. m.

Record Field of 14 Running in Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK — Facts and figures on today's running of the Belmont Stakes:
Gross value: $126,100.
Net to winner: $90,000 minus 1,000 for each scratch.
Running: 86th.
Distance: 1 1/2 miles.
Probable post time: 4:45 p. m. EDT.
Broadcast and television: by CBS from 4:30 to 5 p. m. EDT.
Stakes record: Set at 2:28 1/4 by Count Fleet in 1943, equaled by Citation in 1948.
Last year's finish: Native Dancer, Jamie K., Royal Bay Gem.

NEW YORK — The richest and 86th running of the historic Belmont Stakes comes up at Belmont Park today with a record-equaling field of 14 three-year-olds shooting for a share of the $126,100 purse.

The lion's portion of the lucrative prize—$90,000—goes to the winner of the mile and a half classic, scheduled to start at 4:45 p. m. EDT with about 50,000 fans at trackside in addition to millions watching on television. CBS will televise and broadcast the race.

Not since 1875, and only then, did 14 young horses run in the Belmont. Lack of a standout, the testing distance at which all the starters are untied, and the uncertain physical condition of the more prominent entrants encouraged 12 owners to "take a shot" at a race they had little hopes of winning earlier in the year.

Since Determine, the Kentucky Derby winner, and Hasty Road, the Preackness victor, were not named for the race, High Gun from the King Ranch took over the role of favorite at odds of 5 to 2. The winner of the Peter Pan Handicap has an able running mate in Riverina, the filly who won the Acorn Stakes.

High Gun will be ridden by Eric Guerin. Hank Moreno will ride Riverina, the first filly to challenge in the race since 1932.

Running against the King Ranch entry will be Prince Hill and Periman from Christopher T. Chenery's barn. Hal Price Headley's Pinetum, Rancho Casitas' Lime-light, Robert S. Lytle's Correlation, C. V. Whitney's Fisherman, J. Barry Ryan's Buttevant, Foxcatcher Farm's Chevation, Llangollen's Porterhouse, Mrs. J. H. R. Thouron's War of Roses, William Goadby Loe's Kilmanjaro and Greentree Stable's Palm Tree.

Correlation, with Eddie Arcaro replacing suspended Willie Shoemaker in the saddle, loomed as second choice at 3 to 1.

Army Recruiting Policy Changed

Sgt. John Weiman of the Army recruiting station, 100 South Park street, Heron, announced today that recruiting regulations for the Army have just been re-written.

In the past, when a man wanted to enlist in the Army he was given four choices: Regular Army unassigned — Airborne unassigned — Far East unassigned and a limited choice of school assignments.

Under the new regulation, any man who meets the standards of the present day Army may enlist for any of the following: Adjutant General Corps, Artillery, Corps of Engineers, Finance Corps, Infantry, Military Police, Ordnance Corps, Signal Corps, Transportation Corps, Regular Army unassigned, Airborne unassigned, Far East unassigned, U. S. Army, Alaska, U. S. Forces in Austria, U. S. Army Caribbean, U. S. Army Europe and U. S. Army Pacific.

He may also enlist for the 1st Cavalry Division, 2d Infantry Division, 3d Infantry Division, 7th Infantry Division, 24th Infantry Division, 25th Infantry Division, 5th Regimental Combat Team, 11th Airborne Division, 82nd Airborne Division, 4th Field Artillery Battalion (Camp Carson, Colorado), 35th Quartermaster Pack Company (Camp Carson, Colorado) or he can choose from a list of 87 technical schools and be given a written guarantee that he will attend the school of his choice. This guarantee is given him before he is enlisted.

Most of these policies have not been in force since 1947.

MONEYED MAN — Billy O'Dell was signed by the Baltimore Orioles as a bonus player. Winning 8 while losing 3 for Clemson, the southpaw had an earned run average of 0.43 the past college season.

'You Gotta Beat Us to Win Pennant,' Stengel Tells White Sox in 3-2 Thriller

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer
Casey Stengel told the White Sox today how they can win the pennant.

"You gotta beat us guys," he said. "We were two good teams out there and it was a helluva battle but we got one more run than they do."

It was an old story. Friday night, in a 3-2 thriller, the Yankees made only six hits. Chicago got nine and added four walks off Albie Reynolds and had one or more men on base in every inning but two. But Irv Noren came up in the eighth after Phil Rizzuto had walked, stolen second and gone to third on an infield out and punched the first hit in four innings off reliever Mike Forniello. It won the ball game.

And it was the fourth straight defeat for the White Sox by the Yankees, all by one run. Reynolds, despite all of his trouble, won his seventh game and even then both Chicago runs were unearned. Yogi Berra hit a Yankee homer and the other run came around on a double by Eddie Robinson and Jerry Coleman's single.

Sox Lead Cut
The defeat cut Chicago's first-place lead to half a game over Cleveland which topped the Red Sox at Boston, 6-2, on a three-run homer by Larry Doby and a pair of bases-empty blasts by George Strickland and Wally Westlake plus a steady nine-hit pitching job by Art Houtteman.

Detroit went on a home run spree to top the Athletics, 16-5, then lost, 2-1, while Washington outlasted the Dodgers 9-8. In the National league, the Badgers regained first place by defeating the Reds, 10-8, while Chicago ended the four-game Giant winning streak with a 10-inning, 5-4 victory on a homer by Edie Miksis.

Lew Burdette started the Braves back on a winning stride with a five-hit 1-0, victory over the Phils' ace lefty, Curt Simmons. Pittsburgh pounded out 19 hits to defeat the Cardinals, 8-5.

Detroit Explodes
Ray Boone and Al Kaline hit grand slam homers and Boone and pitcher Ray Herbert hit two-run blasts while Wayne Belardi and Frank Bolling homered with the Nash to Play At Uniontown, Ky.

The Nash baseball team will travel to Uniontown, Ky., Sunday searching for their sixth victory of the season.

Records would indicate that Uniontown has a good club, featuring a hurler by the name of Skinner who has had several years of professional experience.

Nolen of Miller is expected to start on the mound for Nash, with Wilson the receiver.

Ken Nolen, fleet footed center fielder, is leading the Nash club at bat with an impressive .451 average.

All Nash players are requested to meet at the town park diamond not later than 11:30 a. m. Sunday to make the trip to Uniontown.

MERIDEN — Conn. — Albert E. Amour was arrested on a charge of drunken driving. His friend, Roland Laurendeau, who was with him, testified in court that Amour had not been driving. The testimony absolved Amour, and the charge was placed against Laurendeau.

Parry O'Brien Sets World Shotput Record

LOS ANGELES — Parry O'Brien etched a world's shotput record of 60 feet, 10 inches, in the book today, while a disappointed Wes Santee left for Marine duty at Quantico, Va., after having run a sizzling 4:00.7 mile over a track which experts said was "absolutely dead."

Santee defeated Luxembourg's Josy Barthel by more than 30 yards Friday night with the powerful finishing kick which until now has been a Barthel trade mark.

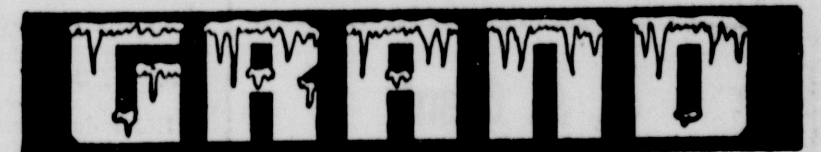

The pair battled neck and neck for three laps in the last time of three minutes flat, before Santee shot past the plucky 1952 Olympic 150 meter champion in a valiant try for Roger Bannister's mark of 3:59.4.

O'Brien, competing for the Los Angeles Athletic Club in the Southern Pacific AAU championships, broke his own pending world mark of 60 feet, 5 1/2 inches, twice. He got off a heave of 60 feet, 6 inches, and then followed with the prodigious 60 foot, 10 inch effort, his third world mark of the season.

Mal Whitfield, who won the 880 in the relatively slow time of 1:50.4, said the track was exceptionally slow. "It was absolutely dead," Whitfield said. "It probably cost Santee a full second or a second and a half."

Santee's quarter times were 59.5, 60.0, 60.5 and 60.7. The time was one-tenth of a second over his American record of 4:00.6, set in Compton last week on a much faster track.

Statistics aren't dull
when they're human

Almost ONE MILLION juvenile delinquents last year! Increase expected this year!

These are not dull statistics. They are flesh and blood figures. They are the tragedy of America written not with paper and pen, but with the wreckage of young lives.

"But why?" you ask. "What is the cause?"

Judges and social workers, almost with one voice, lay the blame on home influences and lack of religious training.

It's up to you, then, Mother and Dad, to help YOUR child. Give him a home filled with love and understanding rather than indifference—a home that leads him into service rather than crime.

Bring YOUR child to Sunday School and Church. Help him become a happy, useful personality instead of a sad statistic.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"Amos Denounces Intemperance"

Amos 2:11-12; 4:1-2; 6:1-7

GOLDEN TEXT: "Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness." (Romans 13:13)

INTRODUCTION: The American people had better wake up soon. We are digging our own grave. The public has not realized what a terrible thing is happening in "the land that we love." Greedy men and women who make and sell liquor and beer seemingly care little for the future of our nation.

Every year more money is spent on alcoholic beverages in America than on any other consumable goods, except meat. Three times as much is spent on liquor as on education, while public school teachers work on starvation wages. Five times as much is spent on liquor as on all religious work combined, and we sing: "God Bless America."

The liquor industry is paying high wages today to psychologists to help them advertise their stuff. Americans are falling for their propaganda. Yet, today, an average of one out of every four homes in the United States has in it an alcoholic. Sunday school teachers and ministers are asked to soft-pedal their speech about the alcoholic problem and to omit their temperance lessons. Any Sunday school teacher who would refuse to teach the lesson to his or her class denouncing liquor and beer should be taken out of the teaching staff. Any preacher who would refuse to do the same should be asked by his church to resign and get out of the way of God's will being done in his pulpit.

I. TEMPTING OTHERS (2:11-12)
In Amos' day those who drank alcoholic beverages were just like those who do the same today. They felt ashamed in the presence of those who did not drink. They tempted those who did not drink to do so. Young people today are placed in the spot all too often. They are made to feel old-fashioned if they refuse the social drink! One out of every ten who take their first social drink end up as an alcoholic. There are over seven million alcoholics in our country today.

CONCLUSION: We appeal to those who read this to take a definite stand against this evil serpent (liquor) which is stinging our land today. God has abundantly blessed America all during her short history, but, oh! what a terrible day when he turns his back on us. The liquor and beer trade in America could well be our down-fall. God help us to blot it out!

day. Young people don't yield when tempted!
II. DRINK LOWERS WOMANHOOD (4:1-2)

Amos compares the women of Israel, who drink, to the cows. He says that they have become so low morally as to encourage the men to do evil, so that the women can drink more.

Perhaps a woman today has as much right to drink as a man. However, because of her position as a mother and wife, we doubt that she has. More than half of the women in America today drink. What is to become of the homes of America, the foundation of our government? Oh! women, what a terrible responsibility is yours.

III. LIQUOR CAUSES POOR JUDGMENT (6:1-2)

The leaders of our nation, state and local communities need to think clearly. Liquor clouds the mind and makes one susceptible to temptation. Yet, how many important decisions are made in our land over the cocktail glass today! Thank God for our leaders who do not drink! May God help us to elect more of their kind.

IV. MORE ALCOHOLICS DAILY (6:3-6)

We see pictured here the modern tavern or night club. The person starts out with a small glass and ends up by drinking from bowls. They start by being ashamed of the first "little drink" and end up by bragging about how much they can hold. (Little pigs eat a lot to make hogs of themselves.) There is not a sot drunkard who started out to become one.

V. GOD'S JUDGMENT (6:6-7)
Friend, mark it well: You disobey God every time you sell or drink liquor or any other alcoholic beverage. Remember, "God is not mocked." You may get by for a while, but just as sure as you live, God's judgment will fall upon you one day.

Israel suffered captivity and destruction because of this evil. Beware America!

CONCLUSION: We appeal to those who read this to take a definite stand against this evil serpent (liquor) which is stinging our land today. God has abundantly blessed America all during her short history, but, oh! what a terrible day when he turns his back on us. The liquor and beer trade in America could well be our down-fall. God help us to blot it out!
